2.3 Unlisted Commissions

You may request any commission not listed in the Pricing Catalogue, not featured in the Commission Request Form, or not otherwise advertised. Quotes for unlisted commissions will be broken down by each component requested. Unlisted commissions will require multiple draft check-ins throughout the process. Flame Dreamer Art reserves the right to decline an unlisted commission request for any reason including but not limited to insufficient experience with requested media or subject, unavailable resources (time, space, or materials), and logistics.

2.4 Prints and Shop Orders

Prints of original Flame Dreamer Art works, including personal and commissioned pieces, are available online to order in various sizes. Unlisted prints or print sizes may be requested via email. Requests will be approved at the discretion of Flame Dreamer Art. Print orders are processed weekly and shipped each Monday. You will be notified via email when payment has been received and when the ordered product is shipped. If applicable, a tracking number will be provided once the order is shipped.

3.0 Payment

Work on a commission only begins after upfront payment through Venmo, PayPal, or cash has been accepted. Payments must be made to fulfill a direct invoice or fund request from an official Flame Dreamer Art account. Any payments made which do not exactly match an official invoice, with the exceptions of tips and donations explicitly designated as such by you, will not be accepted. All prices are in USD and do not include shipping unless explicitly stated.

3.1 Prices

All prices, including but not limited to original artwork and print sales, are based on material cost. Commission prices additionally include an hourly wage associated with a similar product. Prices listed in the Flame Dreamer Art Official Pricing Catalogue represent the cost of a similar commission and are subject to change. Advertised prices reflect the cost of associated advertised images and are not final commission quotes. Due to the individual nature of each commission request, Flame Dreamer Art reserves the right to quote differently from that which is advertised for any unique artistic differences.

3.2 Quotes

A quote will be provided once a commission request form is received and processed by Flame Dreamer Art. Initial commission quotes formulated in response to a commission request do not include shipping, alterations, or add-ons. (see sections 4.6-4.8 for alteration details or sections 3.4 and 5.0-5.4 for shipping details)

3.3 Incremental Payments

The following are possible alternative payment methods if a commission quote exceeds a certain amount, a project changes dramatically or adds components, or if you are otherwise in need of a financially mindful payment plan.

Commissions quoted between $100 and $200 require a 50% down payment and the remaining balance after the work is complete. Commissions quoted between $200 and $500 require a 45% down payment. Commissions quoted above $500 require a 40% down payment, 30% to continue after the official work-in-progress check-in and the final 30% once the work is complete. Final commissions will not be delivered until the entire balance is paid.

Should you request an order-altering change, addition, or repeated alterations, Flame Dreamer Art reserves the right to not fulfill such requests or to request appropriate funds to do so in an additional, previously unquoted invoice. (see section 4.6 and 4.8 for details on commission alterations)

Flame Dreamer Art understands and is willing to accommodate you should you have financial difficulties. Financially mindful payment plans are only available if you are commissioning work. Options for payment plans are instance specific and will be provided by request before an initial invoice is sent. Flame Dreamer Art reserves the right to decline any alternative payment method for any reason.

3.4 Shipping Payments

The cost of shipping art is not included in any advertising, prices listed in the print shop, or initial commission quotes. You are responsible for paying the appropriate shipping invoice in full before a product will be shipped.

Shipping prices for non-digital commissions will be quoted after the piece is completed. Once the shipping quotes are provided, you must select a quote option and pay the corresponding invoice in full. (see section 5.2 for details)

Print shop shipping costs are not standard or included in the advertised price. Shipping is calculated and paid during online check-out. (see section 5.3 for details)

No products digital, traditional, or otherwise will be packaged, labeled, shipped, and/or otherwise delivered prior to Flame Dreamer Art receiving full payment. Full payment includes all of the following components related to a product(s): original commission quote, delivery cost, packaging cost, insurance fees, alteration fees, license fees, and all other charges related to the product(s) in question. All payments must be filled in response to an invoice from a verified Flame Dreamer Art account.

3.5 Refunds

You will only receive a full refund if a commission cannot be completed to the standards defined and upheld by Flame Dreamer Art. Flame Dreamer Art does not provide refunds for commissions proven unsatisfactory to you. If you are in the commission queue, their commission has not been started and they wish to cancel said order, the order will be removed from the queue and refunded with a 15% cancellation fee. Flame Dreamer Art does not provide partial refunds for any other reason. All shipping invoices, once paid in full, are non-refundable.

There are no returns or refunds for prints purchased in the shop once the product has been shipped. If you have mistakenly purchased a print, the order will only be cancelled and refunded if you inform Flame Dreamer Art by email within 24 hours.

If you have received prints with in-route incurred damage, you are eligible to receive replacements. To receive a damaged print replacement, you must report the incident to Flame Dreamer Art via email with proof of damage within 48 hours after having received the shipment. Forms of proof must include at least one photo or video of the reported damage. Print replacements will only be shipped after this report is received, processed, and approved at the discretion of Flame Dreamer Art. If approved, you will only be charged for shipping and will not be charged for the cost of the replacement print.

4.0 Process and Deadlines

4.1 Commission Request Form

The Flame Dreamer Art Commission Request Form is a google form designed for you to request a quote for one commission. If you desire more than one commission should submit one form per commission. You may submit multiple Commission Request Forms at any time. The Commission Request Form provides space for you to describe ideas, upload references, and otherwise detail a commission.

Flame Dreamer Art will not process nor accept any commission without having received either a Commission Request Form or an email inquiry regarding the commission in question. Additionally, Flame Dreamer Art reserves the right to not process and/or accept any Commission Request Forms submitted improperly. Improper form submission includes but is not limited to the following: incomplete information, false credentials, discriminatory statements and/or hate symbols, evidence and/or proof of illegal acts, and pornographic data. Submitting information which qualifies as any one of these is subject to being reported to authorities, ignored, and/or removed from Flame Dreamer Art data, files, and accounts. Flame Dreamer Art does not take responsibility for any data which has been submitted to the Commission Request Form.

4.2 Commission Quotes

Commission quotes will be provided via email to you if you have either submitted a Commission Request Form or otherwise requested a commission quote via email. Quotes are based on subject, media and materials, date needed-by, and the estimated hours needed to complete a commission as described by you.

Commission quotes do not include changes, alterations, or additions requested by you during the commission process. You are encouraged to request changes throughout the commission process to ensure your happiness. Flame Dreamer Art reserves the right to request additional funds for any requests made by the you after a quote is produced. Additionally, commission quotes do not include shipping.

4.3 Paying Commission Invoices

You will receive an official invoice when they agree to the amount quoted by Flame Dreamer Art via email. Invoices will be sent from validated Flame Dreamer Art money managing accounts. Valid accounts include @flamedreamerart on Venmo and flamedreamerart@gmail.com on PayPal. Invoices will include the artist-appointed title and commission type as a description.

For more details on payment options, reference sections 3.0-3.5.

4.4 Commission Queue

Commission orders will be placed at the bottom of the queue, unless otherwise specified, only after the first payment has been received. Once in the queue, Flame Dreamer Art will notify you when work on a commission begins.

4.5 Delays

Flame Dreamer Art will notify you if you have ordered prints or are in the commission queue when delays occur for any reason. Commission delays include time estimate changes of over a week or time shifts which can no longer complete a commission by the need-by date. Print orders are shipped on the first business day of each week. Delays for print orders shift to the first business day of the following week.

4.6 Works-in-Progress Drafts

Flame Dreamer Art will send at least one work-in-progress email per piece with partially completed artwork at a step appropriate for each commission type. This email will include an image of the work in progress, clarification requests, and any additional questions. Flame Dreamer Art will not continue with a commission until you respond either with approval or desired alterations.

Flame Dreamer Art reserves the right to refuse or charge additionally to complete any changes to a commission requested in response to a work-in-progress image. Alterations which require additional charge are referred to as 'complex changes' and are determined as such at the discretion of Jordan Mae Harris. Alteration requests which may be considered complex include but are not limited to redoing entire parts or sections, adding, or changing components which were not disclosed before payment was made, or increasing time or material cost.

Character commission check-ins are dependent on the requested coloring. Work-in-progress images for black and white or color character drawings will include a completed line-art first draft. Line-art character drawing images will consist of a detailed sketch.

Avian commissions check-ins, including single bird drawings, build-your-own-broods, build-your-own-ecosystem, and special orders, are dependent on media. Digital avian commission check-ins are the same as character drawings. Acrylic avian commissions have multiple check-ins: a detailed sketch, base colors, and intermediate detailing. For drawings consisting only of graphite, colored pencil, charcoal, or pastel, pen, ink and quill, or watercolors a detailed sketch will be provided as an update. For drawings using multiple forms of media, check-in images will feature the completion stage for each media. For example, a pen and watercolor commission check-in image will include completed penwork.

Creature commission check-ins, if digital, are similarly dependent on requested coloring to character commissions. Black and white or color creature drawing check-ins will include completed line-art, and line-art creature drawings will include a detailed sketch. Non-digital creature commission check-ins vary depending on media similarly to avian commissions.

Custom tattoo commission check-ins of all kinds vary depending on complexity and media. Digital tattoo commission check-ins are the same as character commission check-ins and are dependent on color. For orders with more than one subject, a work-in-progress images will be provided for each component.

4.7 Final Drafts

Once a commission is considered complete, an image of the final draft will be sent to you. A commission is considered complete entirely at the discretion of Jordan Mae Harris. This discretion is based on standards which are defined and upheld by Jordan Mae Harris and Flame Dreamer Art. Flame Dreamer Art has a standard quality of work for all commissions. Commissions are all unique as are their standards of completion, thus no commission's completion may be compared to any other, even if consistent in style, media, subject, or commission type.

4.8 Post-Completion Options

You are still able to request changes after a final draft has been received. However, Flame Dreamer Art reserves the right to refuse or charge additionally to complete any changes in response to a final draft image. Alterations to final drafts are limited more than changes requested in response to work-in-progress check-in images. Ability to fulfil these requests varies depending on media and is determined at the discretion of Jordan Mae Harris. If deemed possible by Jordan Mae Harris, post-completion requests may require additional funds to complete. Post-completion alterations which require additional charge are referred to as 'post-completion complex changes' and are determined as such at the discretion of Jordan Mae Harris. Alteration requests which may be considered complex include but are not limited to redoing entire parts or sections, adding, or changing components which were not disclosed before payment was made, or increasing time or material cost.
